

Test bookings

Learners test booking

You have to book personally at the testing station. No body else can book for you because eye test of the applicant is conducted. Parents or friends may take you to the testing station assisting you with transport, but they can't book for you.

To book your learners test you need to bring:

1. ID and a copy (or valid passport and traffic register number and copies for non South African citizens). Make sure you take the original ID. The copy DON'T need to be certified. Same apply for the passport and copy of it.
2. Proof of residential address. This is a new requirement. Booking official may not ask you for this document but i advise to take it just in case. If you don't have such a document as it usually is, you have to provide certified copy of your parent's one with affidavit certified at the police station.
3. 4 B/W photos. They usually need only one, but take 4 black and white photos just in case. You will need photos during the whole process.
4. R 108 cost the booking. Please remember that you will need another R 60 for the issue of the learners license once you pass successfully the learners test.

Drivers test booking

You have to book personally at the testing station. No body else can book for you because eye test of the applicant is conducted. Parents or friends may take you to the testing station assisting you with transport, but they can't book for you.

To book your learners test you need to bring:

1. ID and a copy (or valid passport and traffic register number and copies for non South African citizens). Make sure you take the original ID. The copy DON'T need to be certified. Same apply for the passport and copy of it.
2. Learners license and a copy. Make sure you take the correct learners license. Some times the applicants have 2 licenses - one for the light motor vehicle and another for motor bike. The one for the car is code 2 and is reflected in the middle of the page. Also make sure this is the original, not the copy. Make sure you feel the relief of the photo on the document.
3. Proof of residential address. This is a new requirement. Booking official may not ask you for this document but i advise to take it just in case. If you don't have such a document as it usually is, you have to provide certified copy of your parent's one with affidavit certified at the police station.
4. 4 B/W photos. They usually need only one, but take 4 black and white photos just in case. You will need photos during the whole process.
5. R 228 cost the booking. Please remember that you will need another R 228 for the issue of the drivers license once you pass successfully the learners test.